

KINGDOM FALL

Each word you speak
Drips like poison
Through cracks in walls I built
To keep you away
But you still find me
Night after night
Sweet promises
That rot from within

Can't resist the pull
When you're breathing down my neck
Making every choice feel right
Until nothing's left

Your words dissolve like smoke
When truth breaks through the dark
I'm standing in His light now
Watch your kingdom fall apart
(Fall apart)

Crawling beneath my skin,
Gentle words that tear,
Twisting every truth I know,
Making me believe
That I need you.
But I see through—
Your lies dissolve to nothing
When He speaks my name.

BURN IT ALL AWAY
BURN
LET YOUR ASHES SCATTER
IN HIS HOLY FLAME

In silent moments
When the doubt creeps in

I hear Your voice rise above the chaos
Breaking every chain
That held me down
In Your presence, evil fades

Your words dissolve like smoke
When truth breaks through the dark
I'm standing in His light now
Watch your kingdom fall apart
(Fall apart)

Every whisper turns to dust
In the presence of His love
